Subject: Proposed e-book Settlement

Dear Mr. Read,

We are writing to express our hope that coming settlement of how the sale of books, especially ebooks, can best benefit not just the sellers, but also the buyers in our country. We need healthy competition and a level playing field to allow the book market to find its own way when the entire industry is in a major shift. Please consider the need to enable as many companies as possible to compete under fair conditions, and not just allow an already dominant entity to strangle out smaller but valuable commercial enterprises in the book publishing field. Thank you for giving an ear to our plea for fairness. Rev. Paul and Karen Karper Fredette
