I am writing because I am concerned about the lack of competition in agricultural markets. Just one company, Monsanto, controls the majority of seeds in the US, and regularly threatens farmers who don't buy its seeds. Also, it has been proven that genetically modified foods are bad for you. I do not eat them and am concerned that the continued domination of the agricultural market by Monsanto will lead to the elimination of non-GMO foods availability. Monsanto has the right to compete in the marketplace, but they do not have the right to restrict free trade.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

Larry Williamson
