

From: Kelly Reece <kjsreece@comcast.net>
Sent: Saturday, December 19, 2009 2:20 PM
To: ATR-Agricultural Workshops <agriculturalworkshops@usdoj.gov>
Subject: Comments

I am writing because I am concerned about the lack of competition in agricultural markets.

Local farmers should be able to grow food for us locally without interference from Big Ag. Monsanto, Cargill, and other large corporations are attempting to impose fines, impose testing requirements, etc., to protect their GMO products, which reduce the ability of all of us to even save our own seed, which has been important to food production since the Mayans! Our local foodcrop should be protected from big Agriculture, not the other way around!

This is a big deal! It is very important to food security for all of us. GMO food harms us all.

We need the DOJ to file class action lawsuits against the seed monopolies held by Monsanto and Cargill.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to comment.

Sincerely,

Kelly Reece

, 97201